Today's Program

We welcome Dr. Jesse Dingle, the new principal of John Handley High School. Dr. Dingle has been a frequent visitor to our club of late and we look forward to hearing from him about his vision for Handley.

Last Chance to Golf for Goodness' Sake

As if you needed a reason to play golf, this Monday is our 9th Annual Benefit Golf Tournament at Winchester Country Club. Join us as we hit the links on behalf of the Winchester Law Enforcement Foundation. Chairman Don Louque is in need of volunteers (in case you're skittish about actually swinging a club—all the relaxation and camaraderie, none of the mortifying moments), not to mention raffle items (think of it as a golf-related sequel to our Rummage Sale).

Our Sept. 20th Program

Kelly Henshaw, Winchester City Engineer, updated us on all of the existing and pending projects in the City, spoke about an assortment of ongoing city improvements, including:

Miles and miles of new sidewalks...at a cost of millions and a timeframe of 10 months, the project has now expanded to Amherst Street - 50 West (who could miss that work).

Downtown mall—it's a project three years in the planning, it will be completed over a 4-month cycle beginning at year-end and costing $7M. The project will include new water and sewer, streets, and entranceways on the north and south ends. The water fountain that our club donated will be moved from in front of the Old Courthouse to the greens of the Our Health campus. There will also be a new self cleaning public restroom with all kinds of bells and whistles.

Other projects recently completed and/or in process include the Green Circle and LED lighting in area streetlights.

Kudos and Thanks for Another Great Apple Harvest Arts & Crafts Festival

Thanks and kudos to Bill Hottle, Kit Molden, and everyone who played a part in the Apple Harvest Arts and Crafts Festival at Jim Barnett Park. This "all hands on deck" event attracted a great crowd and the weather couldn't have been better. (Thanks to the weather committee!) Stay tuned for final results of our effort to benefit local charities.

Health Update/Tip

Our club's thoughts are with Gene Shultz, whose mother passed away recently.

Mike Foreman has thankfully turned the corner, is off the respirator and complaining about the hospital food. He'll be home soon and joining us complaining about the Rotary food!

Libba's health tip, just in time for Oktoberfest celebrations is to take advantage of all the healthy ingredients in - beer....in moderation of course!
